

Australian Animals are Amazing!

AAAA Step One: Do your Research

Note: Wikipedia information is not always accurate, so if you use Wikipedia, check the information with at least one more source.

Read! Read! Read! Look at a number of books and good internet resources.

Hint: Check the date of publication of books to find the most recent and hopefully up-to-date information.

Choose your animal (if you haven't already).

Hint: Choose either an animal you love, or an animal you would like to know more about.

Read more. Take notes

Hint: use the 10 questions to guide your research. You can also use the 10 questions template to write your notes.

A special note: Research notes can be messy. Drafts too. Mine always are!
